 This opinion has been established on the basis of a translation from the original language into the following language _____, which is the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international search (under Rules 12.3 and 23.1(b)).
2. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application and necessary to the claimed invention, this opinion has been established on the basis of:
 - a. type of material
 a sequence listing
 table(s) related to the sequence listing
 - b. format of material
 in written format
 in computer readable form
 - c. time of filing/furnishing contained in international application as filed.

WRITTEN OPINION OF THE
INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY

International application No.
PCT/US04/16419

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43 bis.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims 2-38	YES
	Claims 1	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims 2-38	YES
	Claims 1	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims 1-38	YES
	Claims NONE	NO

2. Citations and explanations:

Claim 1 lacks novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by Bjorkegren et al.

Bjorkegren teaches the association of increased ApoCI levels with increased atherosclerosis and as compared to controls non-atherosclerotic men. Atherosclerosis is known to be a risk factor for atherosclerosis-associated plaque rupture or myocardial infarction. The prior art teachings anticipate the claimed invention.

Claims 2-38 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(2)-(3), because the prior art does not teach or fairly suggest the association of ApoCI levels with increased apoptosis of aortic smooth muscle cells.

Claims 1-38 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4), and thus meet industrial applicability because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in industry.
